Many hoops exist if council were to consider police change

By Gari Voss

Conversations arose when the City of Allegan was informed by City Manager Joel Dye that the council needed to find ways to finance a laundry list of projects over the next 10 years. During that meeting, the proposal was made to transfer the police protection from the City of Allegan Police Department to the Allegan County Sheriff Department. The transfer of jurisdiction is not a defund effort. Such a move requires following a process before an agreement with the County is able to be executed.

Gale Dugan, Chair

of the Allegan County Commissioners, shared, “The Board of Commissioners has adopted policies that address the advent that a municipality is seeking this type of service. The scope and perimeter of the service is laid out administratively and reported back to board.”

“Generally, County

law enforcement contracting is designed to enhance existing levels of service,” explained County Administrator Robert Sarro. “For each Deputy contracted, a portion of the time is spent within the municipality and a portion covers county-wide service. When a municipality that has an existing police department decides to explore possibilities of closing their police department and desires to utilize the County force, the municipality must have a solid knowledge of the level of service it is expecting and must consider how contracting for law enforcement services is designed to work.”

Allegan City Manager Dye laid out the list of projects to be completed and an amount attached to each project. The challenge has been to find dollars in the budget to cover the cost of those projects, especially since the

Easter weekend brings crowds to Allegan

By Gari Voss

The weekend of April 18-20, 2025, was again packed with possibilities for all ages. The events really began on Thursday, April 17th and did not slow down until the afternoon of Saturday, April 19th.

The “weekend” really began on Thursday, April 17th when the lower level of the Griswold Auditorium filled with people interested in learning what it is like to be in poverty. The perimeter of the room was filled with tables representing the different businesses and organizations with which people must interact on a regular basis just to obtain the basics of life. Participants from county non-profits, the Allegan County Community (ACCF) leadership program, and ACCF donors were assigned to a family whose members would work together during the simulation.

Over a 4-week period, each family had to find money for transportation to medical appointments, the store, the bank, etc. Plus, they had to pay their rent, and some even were evicted and sent to temporary housing. Others were ticketed for leaving young children home alone. During the final reflection, participants were able to share their frustrations and have a better understanding of what it is like to have a limited budget on which to live.

The Workshop was hosted by ACCF and facilitated by Access of West Michigan, an organization whose mission is to cultivate solutions related to poverty. Those clerking the resource tables have known poverty and volunteer in a variety of ways to assist those in poverty to move out of poverty and to educate the public what it means to be in poverty.

Poverty Education Workshop
“Families” during the Poverty Education Workshop on Thurs., Apr. 17, 2025, at the Griswold Auditorium had to make plans on how to complete all of the tasks necessary for daily living.

As plans were made during the Poverty Education Workshop, family members worked to find transportation to go to appointments, cover childcare, purchase food, and work out daily problems. The lower floor of the Griswold Auditorium became rather chaotic as the weeks in poverty unfurled.

Book Bag Sale.
The Friends of the Allegan District Library held a Book Bag “Sale” on April 25-26, 2025, to cull out books, CDs and DVDs that they could not fit on shelves in the Carnegie Corner Bookstore. Customers could peruse the overly filled tables and fill a bag with books and other items to take home. A donation of any denomination could be made to the Friends of the Allegan District Library that will assist the Friends in supporting library activities.

Kids Summer Discovery Fair.
Next door to the library, in the lower level of the Griswold Auditorium, tables formed a perimeter around the room for the Kids Summer Discovery Fair on Sat., Apr. 19, 2025, from 10-noon. The event brought families looking for ways to keep their children busy during the summer months. Each table held information about summer activities in the Allegan County area. Visitors learned about summer camps, farms to visit, library, Help Me Grow summer plans, and activities like family Yoga. There were games to play and information to gather. Conversations and information materials led to discovering new activities around Allegan County. Thank you to Nicole Heslip and Pam Armstrong for organizing the first Summer Discovery Fair. Jaycee’s Annual Easter Eggstravaganza Jaycee Park filled with hundreds of excited children ready to participate in the Jaycee’s Annual Easter Eggstravaganza on Sat., Apr. 19, 2025, beginning at 11am. They came in cars, strollers, wagons and on foot to hear the word GO and begin adding as many eggs as possible to their Easter baskets and bags. Each egg was filled with candy, plus there were some special eggs that contained slips of paper which led to extra prizes. Beginning with the youngest age group, children ran out onto the lawn to gather as many eggs as possible. Those arriving early could even have pictures taken with the Easter Bunny. The egg stuffing was done by Jaycee volunteers at Sassy Olive. Observant visitors even found eggs that had been hidden around town to advertise the event.

Earth Day Community Clean Up
Not to be forgotten was the Downtown Earth Day Community Clean Up. 15 Teams checked in at Sassy Olive on Locust St. between 10am and 1pm. Participants received jammed backed goodie bags thanks to many of the businesses in town and were assigned an area to clean. The garbage bags were taken to the city dumpsters along the riverfront. Sorry, no picture, but miles of sidewalks and foliage were cleared of debris and litter. A special thank you to Sassy Olive for being the starting point, to all who participated, and to Pizza Hut for the sustenance at the end.

Wayland Schools break ground on new pool

By Piper Raab

Superintendent Tim Reeves, of Wayland Union Public Schools announced the Pool Groundbreaking Ceremony, on the evening of Monday, April 14th to nearly 100 on-lookers, at 5:00pm. Mr. Reeves proclaimed, "This amazing project will be used for the community, fun and wellness... It will be here where many, many, memories and moments will be made for many years to come."

The pool building site is located on the west side of the Wayland High School campus. It was a beautiful sunny and windy day. The winds calmed down just enough for the honorary group photos to be taken. Thankfully no sand was blown into the eyes of the participants and spectators. Elizabeth Stein, the district Communications Specialist, was the event coordinator and photographer. Nine group photos were taken, as everyone had the opportunity to join in.

In a telephone interview, Superintendent Tim Reeves stated, “The budget for the pool is $17 million and the bond passage was voter approved in May of 2023. The completion time frame is proposed to be about 18 – 24 months.”

Immediately after the Pool Groundbreaking, the Wayland Union Public Schools, Board of Education meeting, was held. The evening meeting, located in the library, started off with the announcements to honor 70 nominations recipients for Outstanding Educator of the Year Awards, for the 2024 - 2025 school year.

The three top finalists were selected to represent Wayland Public Schools at the Allegan County Outstanding People for Education Awards Dinner. Their names are: Kar-ri Bailey, Principal at Steeby Elementary, Jamie Berens, Clerical Aide at Dorr Elementary and Deb Wagner, Kitchen Manager at Wayland High School.

Elizabeth Stein commented, "The 70 people nominated is a record for Wayland Public Schools." Superintendent Tim Reeves said about his staff members chosen, "These 70 nominees are a testament to the dedication and excellence here at Wayland."

Teresa Fulk, Director of Instruction of Wayland Public Schools, was also present at the School size is somewhat limited. An additional 3 to 4 children, in each grade level, is still available. Invitations will be sent out for High School students near the end of the 3rd Trimester for consideration of need and credit recovery," Teresa Fulk said. A total of 120 students will comprise the classes and will be equipped with: 10 teachers, 4 aides, and 1 coordinator.

Transportation will be provided with 3 school buses. For questions and further information about the Summer School Program, Teresa Fulk may be contacted at: 269.792.2181.

On a final note, The Wayland Union High

School Theater will present the musical "Rock of Ages: Teen Edition," on Friday, May 9th at: 7:00pm and Saturday, May 10th at: 3:00pm and 7:00pm.

As quoted from the school website, "This Tony Award-nominated, Broadway Musical (original edition) features the hits of bands, including: Night Ranger, REO Speedwagon, Pat Benatar, Twisted Sister, Styx, Journey, Bon Jovi, and Whitesnake. Ticket sales are online (wuffickets.ludus.com) and at the door (cash/card). However, you'll be limited to what seats will still be available."

The Wildwoods to perform at Griswold

By Gari Voss

The Wildwoods happily agreed to fit Allegan in between performing in Ann Arbor, MI and Syracuse, NY on their national tour to share their “music saturated with fabulous folk and country motifs” (Indie Dock Music Blog). Sunday, May 4, 2025, 7pm, the trio of acoustic instrumentalists/vocalists bring their enchanting music to the Griswold Auditorium, 401 Hubbard St., Allegan, MI. The husband and wife duo of Noah Gose (guitar) and Chloe Gose (violin) are joined by long-time friend Andrew Vaggalis (bassist) to bring their delicate harmonies and descriptive lyrics that arise from the heart of Nebraska. In a short time, the trio have become a force in the folk scene as finalists at the Fresh-Grass Music Festival Band competition and Gems on VHS Gems in the Rough competition in 2023. They have also performed for NPR’s Tiny Desk Concerts. Tour publicist Mike Farley explained, “Their story is a symphony of exploration and connection, a journey that has taken them from the Midwest to international stages, carving out a unique place in the folk landscape. Their presence has graced stages alongside artists such as Mighty Poplar, Sierra Ferrell, Aiofe O’ Donovan, Melissa Carper, Jamie Wyatt and Joe Nichols at concerts and festivals like Summerfest, FreshGrass and the Oyster Ridge Music Festival.” The Wildwoods united because of their passion for folk/Americana. Since the decision to create music together, their journey has unfolded with albums “Sweet Nostalgia,” “Birdie & Goose,” “Across a Midwest Sky,” “Foxfield Saint John”, and they just released their fifth album, “Dear Meadowlark”. Their music is said to “weave intricate chord structures and emotional textures that defy genre boundaries. Together, their harmonies resonate with artful sincerity, drawing inspiration from nature, their shared experiences of growing up in Nebraska, and life on the road.” The trio stated, “Every note we play is a chapter in our story, a journey through the heart of American roots music. We’re The Wildwoods, where each lyric is a leaf in the vast forest of our sound.” The Allegan Area Arts Council is excited to host The Wildwoods. Paula Mintek, a long-time AAAC board member, accidentally discovered The Wildwoods on Instagram, and fell in love with their rich harmonies, their unique blend of folk with other styles, and their evocative sound. “We focus a lot on the visual arts, so we’ve wanted to host a music performance for quite some time. In addition, net proceeds will go towards summer arts camp scholarships for area HS students. The AAAC used to sell beverages at the popular Cabaret Band shows, but since those have ended, for now, we need to find an annual event to receive the needed funds,” shared Mintek. “We are sure that those who attend this concert won’t be disappointed. The Wildwoods truly engage with their audiences and frequently receive standing ovations. Their cover of the song ‘Home’ has over a million streams on Spotify.” The doors will open at 6pm with the Downtown Allegan group selling beverages and snacks. All seats are reserved. Tickets ($30, $25) can be purchased at the Griswold Auditorium website www.griswoldallegan.com or via the QR code on the arts council website: www.alleganarts.com.

Quicksand drama turns in to romantic relationship

I was flipping channels the other night when a question was asked. What did you fear most as a kid? There were a variety of answers but one of the answers was quicksand. I immediately concurred. Quicksand was fear of mine for no particular reason other than as a kid I had heard horror stories of this person or that getting stuck, and even some not being able to get out without the help of emergency personnel.

I carefully watched my step when I hunted for bullfrogs in local swamps. I vividly remember a friend getting stuck in a swam nearly knee deep. It took us an hour to dig him out. It happened again, in a marshy area while fishing. This time I was the one that needed assistance.

Then as my quicksand thoughts waned, I saw a photo and read a post on social media about a man who was stuck waist deep in quicksand and was fearing for his life waiting for emergency personnel to arrive. The photo went viral, with thousands of people viewing O'Brien stuck in quicksand.

Mitchell O'Brien and Breanne Sika, co-workers at a recovery center in Traverse City, who were kind of dating were hunting for an unusual blue slag at sunset on Lake Michigan in Leland, when they encountered a large pipe snaking across the beach, spewing slurry from a hydraulic sledge that was vacuuming sand from the harbor bottom.

The hydraulic sledge is owned by Lelant Township, which periodically dredges the harbor. This year they are removing 60,000 cubic yards of sand, that they will in turn use to build up area beaches.

O'Brien stepped into the area where the sledge was spewing, and presto, he was knee deep in quicksand. O'Brien said, It didn't look that bad. It just looked like wet sand. Most of it was firm enough to walk on. Then all of a sudden, I was in a quicksand hole."

He added, "Man I was stuck stuck- like my left leg, I couldn't move it, it's like there was something holding it underground. It was crazy how hard it was there."

His partner called 9-1-1. Hampered by poor cell phone reception, the dispatcher hung up on her, mistaking her for a telemarketer. Finally she got through, and she said, "my boyfriend is stuck in the sand."

At that point, O'Brien, in quicksand, said it was a defining moment in their relationship. No longer were they co-workers, they were a romantic couple. Love was found, not over an expensive dinner, but as a boyfriend was sinking in quicksand. Certainly, a story for the grandkids.

A few minutes later emergency responders arrived, dug around his body a little, and freed him with a rope lasso. It didn't take long, the responders, although never having encountered this situation previously, were able to bring O'Brien to safety.

So, what were your greatest fears? And as an adult have you overcome this? Shoot me an email at wilcoxnewspapers@gmail.com. I'd love to hear from you.

On the whole, as things go, this past week's surprise natural gas outage, wasn't really all that bad. It could have been worse; a lot worse. Fortunately, the disruption came when the weather was moderate, so we did not have frozen pipes, or worse, frozen people. Still, it was uncomfortable, and by last weekend, it was beginning to get a bit frustrating. For those who watched as other homes had their gas restored, and were waiting their turn, it was annoying.

The important thing is that for a big disruption like this, almost everyone pulled together to lend a hand. We did exactly what good people do: We take care of one another and strangers. Neighbors checked on neighbors and offered to lend an electric space heater.

This whole misadventure began, according to all I have learned, when a contractor hired by the Department of Natural Resources, ruptured the pipeline near Fennville. To prevent this sort of thing from happening, that is why Miss Dig must be called anytime anyone is going to dig anything. Creating the rupture was probably the most exciting part about all of this, and fortunately, even this chapter was not very exciting. There was no great explosion, no tower of fire and flames, no grand pillar of smoke. Above all, fortunately no one got hurt. Still, I am sure that whoever caused this caper will be called in on the carpet for their blunder.

He or she is going to have a lot of explaining to do, and I don't envy them. Imagine getting home from work that day and the Significant Other and perhaps some Tax Exemptions ask, "Well, how did work go today?" How do you answer that one? Maybe something like, "Well, it was pretty interesting. I just shut off the gas for 5,200 customers. Nobody has ever done that one before, you know."

As I just wrote, everyone pulled together. The Michigan Gas people turned off the gas to prevent an explosion or fire. The volunteer fire departments, rescue squads, and police were on the scene, and the area was secured. With their mutual aid agreement, all the fire and rescue crews were notified and ready to lend a hand if needed.

I caught onto the idea that something was amiss early on Wednesday evening when I realized the furnace fan was running, but the house was getting cold. By the time the late evening news came on the television stations, the word was out: No gas in a big part of Allegan County, and it was going to stay out for "a while." No one was defining what "a while" meant.

The next morning it was obvious that this little adventure was going to continue for "a while," and no one was taking odds on how long it would last. Periodically there were news updates on social media, but before long, they were repetitious. It was a bit like trying to make an important telephone call, only to be put on hold so we could listen to really bad cheesy music, with the interruption 'your telephone call is important to us, so please remain on the line for the next available operator.' We were starting to get eager for a news release with some forward motion.

The most notable exception to this perpetual instant replay of news came from the Fennville City Hall. I understand that they remained open around the clock to take telephone calls from customers and did a superb job of re-assuring them. That was about the best example of public service, caring, and compassion we've experienced in a long time. There is a lesson to be learned from this, and other towns and communities could be more helpful in answering questions.

Meanwhile, warming stations and even places to spend the night were quickly organized. Once again, it is yet another example of people taking care of each other.

Eventually, we all had the opportunity to learn how the rupture was going to be fixed. The gas had to be shut off, the pipes cleared of any remaining gas, and then all 5200 meters shut off. Without that, something might have gone BOOM!

Michigan Gas called in crews from as far away as Minnesota. Perhaps you saw their assembly areas in the big parking lot in Fennville, or the parking lot at Lake Vista Grocery in Saugatuck. In all, there were several hundred crews. While they were waiting for the gas to be blown out of the pipe, the repairs made, and the tests completed, they were busy getting ready to start restoring service.

Their first task was to find the meter on every customer's building and shut it off. The crews worked from a Michigan Gas list. After the shut off and before they went to the next task, they placed a little yellow flag in front, indicating which side of the building the meter was located. Because the crews were working until midnight, having that flag saved a lot of time and searching.

Beginning on Friday they settled into the task of turning on each customer's gas. With their list of customers, and if they found someone at home, they set to work. They checked to make sure the appliances were turned off, opened up the meter, and then went to ignite the appliance the farthest from meter. Once that one was working, they went to the rest of them. Suffice it to note that they were efficient. They got some of the gas turned on by Friday night, and before dawn the next morning started again.

On Saturday, the fellow who came to my house arrived about 945 PM. Christian was from the Illinois contingency, growing up on the south side of Chicago. He said I was his last call for the night because he had been working at least sixteen hours, the maximum time allowed by the company, but despite a long day, was cordial as they come. He even added that he wished the company would let him work longer so he could get more customers hooked up. Now, that's a work ethic second to none.

When he finished I asked if he'd like something to eat or drink. He looked at me and said everyone had made the same offer. "I've never seen such hospitality in my life," and wanted to know if this was just "company manners" or if we are that way all the time.

He went on to say that this was the first time he'd been to Michigan and really liked his experience here. He hopes he and his family will probably come back this year or the next. If they do come here, the reason is simple: It is because of our welcome to them.

The restoration work continued into Sunday the 13th, and a few more crews were still circulating through the area on Monday and Tuesday. The challenge seems to be that our snowbirds are still in Florida and no one is available to unlock the house and welcome in the crews. Other places are summer cottages, and the Michigan Gas people cannot get access.

Meanwhile, we rose to the challenge and the gas crews appreciated it. That kindness made their work a lot easier.

We done did it together!

City Manager refutes headline

To the editor:

I am writing to correct the misinformation in the April 17 edition of the paper that mischaracterizes the April 14 meeting of the Allegan City Council. If you just read the headline, you'd be left with an entirely wrong idea of what happened during the meeting.

As with so many other Michigan municipalities, the City of Allegan is facing a budget challenges. We are facing rising costs for everything, from paving roads and managing our water system to paying for employee benefits and maintaining our parks. We're also watching as federal grants that benefit our City continue to face the chopping block.

As a City, we have a backlog of infrastructure projects we need to tackle over the next decade. These include:

- Resurfacing or reconstructing 20% of roads and streets to maintain safe driving conditions for residents and visitors.
- Replacing 800 lead water service lines, which is being mandated by the EPA and the state.
- Investing in our water treatment facilities to ensure we can deliver safe, clean and PFAS-free drinking water to residents.
- Replacing the condemned Trestle Trail Bridge, which will cost approximately $1 million.
- Making improvements to Rossman Park, which will cost approximately $300,000.
- Managing annual maintenance programs to keep the City-owned Regent Theatre and Griswold Auditorium operating smoothly and safely.
- Handling annual maintenance and periodic upgrades for our 10 city owned parks.

As I shared with Council during Monday's meeting, the total cost for these projects for the next 10 years in our streets funds is approximately $14.2 million. This simply isn't available in our current budget.

City Council has asked us to come up with a plan to pay for these infrastructure projects, which we will need to sell bonds in order to complete. We estimate we need an average of $500,000 each year for the next 5 years to finance the initial projects. In years 6-10, it is anticipated we will need an additional $500,000 annually for a total of $1 million annually to finance all projects. This would cover the costs of paying back the bonds.

As a City, we've taken a hard look at the budget to see where we might be able to cut costs. We've considered a number of options, including:

Trimming expenses across the board: Our current budget is already bare bones, and we don't have enough to realize the cost savings needed. We are continuing to be mindful of expenses. I've told Council I won't take a pay increase for the upcoming year.

Asking residents for an additional millage: The City of Allegan is already one of the highest taxed municipalities in the county, and we don't think residents will approve adding to the current 16.368 millage rate we currently assess.

Borrowing from the water and sewer funds: While it looks like there might be a surplus in this fund, under Michigan law, we can't borrow from this fund to support police or other general government services.

Contracting with Allegan County for our police services: This approach would allow us to save money while maintaining the high level of public safety our residents have come to know and expect.

While we're continuing to look to reduce our overall expenses, City Council has already been presented with the possibility of contracting with the county for police services. We recognize the vital role of public safety in our community and would never, ever recommend eliminating police, fire or ambulance services. We do need to look at doing things differently, as we have done with our fire services. This proposal, which is currently being considered by City Council, is a different way of paying for public safety.

The City of Allegan has had preliminary discussions with Allegan County to see what an arrangement would look like and it is my intent that each officer and support staff be given the opportunity to land at the Allegan County Sheriff's Department. We recognize some people will worry about a decline in service if we make this change. Rest assured, the City will have protections in place, similar to what we do with our fire services. These will spell out our expectations of service levels in terms of response times, patrols on the road and assistance with code enforcement.

West Michigan municipalities such as Hudsonville, Spring Lake, Coopersville, Georgetown Township, Fennville and Saugatuck have begun contracting for public safety services with Ottawa and Allegan counties with success. Managers in these communities have told me residents and businesses are seeing similar road patrols and response times after the switch, which has saved each municipality hundreds of thousands of dollars.

For the City of Allegan, we anticipate it would be nearly $750,000 in savings in the first year of the switch and then an ongoing savings of $500,000 a year thereafter. We've had nearly a decade of success with our fire services being contracted to the Allegan Fire District, and we anticipate contracting with Allegan County for policing services will allow us to continue providing this vital service while saving costs.

We recognize this is not simply a math equation. It's not just what color uniform an officer will put on in the morning. We know this will have a major impact on each member of the department – and our entire community. For me personally, it's been a real struggle. Our Police Department is the most professional team I've worked with in my 25 years in local government and 8 years as the City Manager for the City of Allegan. They are all top-notch individuals and function extremely well together as a team. All are local graduates and most have decades of service with us. All are known and respected in our community.

This plan would allow them to continue to serve our community, ensuring we can maintain a high level of trust and quality service with officers safeguarding the City. It would also allow us to realize significant costs savings and reinvest those dollars in our community to tackle much-needed infrastructure projects.

We are currently in the exploratory stages of this discussion with City Council, who will make the final decision. Of course, we are open to other paths. Nothing is off the table at this point – and nothing is a done deal.

In the coming weeks, we're planning to listen to our community to hear directly from you. If the community is adamant about retaining our police department, we could look at the possibility of a voter-approved millage. The intent was to bring this conversation to the forefront once we had more information to share.

The City has established a section on our website to provide timely, accurate information to our community. We commit to being transparent during this process. We look forward to hearing the thoughts of residents and business owners and to having robust conversations about the best path forward.

Appointed manager shouldn't be proposing disbandment of police

To the Editor

Like many of you, I was greatly disappointed and frustrated to learn that the appointed manager of our city has proposed to the elected leaders of Allegan City that we need to abolish the Allegan City Police Department in order to fund infrastructure projects that are both necessary and questionable. I have served on various boards and commissions representing the city for 36 years. The first sixteen years I was a member of the Allegan City Council with 8 of those years having the honor to serve as your Mayor. Never did the men and women that I served with, or the leaders we appointed, decide that the many infrastructure projects that we accomplished were more important than the safety of our residents and its visitors. We can have tulips and heated sidewalks, build a multi-million dollar ice arena, a soccer stadium and an amphitheater, and a bustling entertainment district, but if people have the real or perceived belief that they are not safe there, they will not come. Many more might not stay when you combine rising assessments, increased utility costs, and 16 mils of property tax.

Our appointed manager has said that this is the only way to fund these projects and is asking the City Council to allow him to enter negotiations with the Sheriff's Department. It is my understanding that these contract talks have been ongoing for several months. Furthermore, our City Police Dept was never notified that their futures were being discussed. I have had the opportunity to understand and discuss this contract that has been proposed. Following are some facts that I believe were either intentionally omitted or are misleading.

It was stated that we presently employ nine officers and all nine officers will be employed by the County Sheriff's Department. The contract states that any Allegan City officers will have priority status for hiring as positions become available. Therefore, they have no guarantee of immediate employment. Also, they will be hired in with no seniority, may receive less wages due to the Sheriff's Department pay schedule, and will have to "bid" on the area that they would like to work in so there are no assurances that our experienced city officers that have developed relationships with the community will work in this area. To think that our current police force will just change uniforms and vehicles and everything will be the same is false.

The City currently has a budget of $1.8 million for the Allegan City Police Department. This includes wages and benefits, administrative staff, equipment, required and specialized training, and overtime that includes court time and investigative hours. The reason for this predicament that we are in is for a savings of $500,000 for an annual infrastructure bond payment. The County is proposing a contract for $1.1 million. We have been told that that the personnel and the level of service will not change but yet the County can provide a mirror image of our existing department for $1.1 million? I struggle to understand how this is possible. The proposed contract clearly states that 25% of the time there will not be an officer dedicated to the City of Allegan. The proposed contract also states the County will not be responsible for funding the two school resource officers. Clearly, that is not the same! This explains a portion of the alleged cost savings. We will lose the local control for how we would like our department to be operated and special events and festivals that require police oversight may cost additional for their assistance.

The City of Allegan currently has a fund balance in the General Fund of 26%. The City of Allegan currently has a contract with the Allegan Police Union through June of 2027. Did someone forget about this or has it been conveniently omitted from public knowledge? This will be a significant amount of money, both in contract agreed upon compensation and legal fees if the City is unwilling to negotiate in good faith.

In conclusion, I am still dumbfounded with why did anyone think this was a good idea? Is this really the best plan we can come up with or just the easiest? With a healthy fund balance it does not appear that we are in financial distress. Or are we and that has also been conveniently omitted? Can we prioritize our infrastructure needs so that we can live within our means like most Americans do? What kind of message does it send to the rest of the employees? Are they next if this does not raise enough money? Clearly that message is that our appointed manager, and our elected leaders if they support this proposal, have chosen Projects over Public Safety, Roads over Relationships, and Fiscal Incompetence over Families. Please join me on Monday, April 28 at 6:00 pm to support our dedicated public safety professionals. The young men and women have families that this affects too. They have grown up in this community. Many of you went to school with them, attended church together, you know their children, or you see them in the grocery store. They are our friends and our neighbors. The future of our community is at a crossroads. Let us respectfully demand that our elected leaders have the courage to stop this nonsense immediately and come up with a different plan to fund necessary infrastructure projects.

Support Allegan City Police

To The Editor,

I read Gari Voss' front page article in the April 17, 2025 Allegan County News, entitled "Proposal Presented to Eliminate the City Police Department". On April 10th the Allegan City Council Budget Session discussed eliminating the Allegan City Police in order to help pay for costly (unnamed) projects around Allegan. As a lifelong citizen of the City, I do not want to sacrifice our Allegan City Policemen to these projects.

The Budget Committee suggested that the Allegan County Sheriff's Department could cover the City, along with the rest of the county. Bravo to Jay Gibson, Allegan's current Police Chief for attending the meeting and explaining how this would be a losing proposition for The City Police. It would destroy their careers. C'mon, people of Allegan, stand up and support The Allegan City Police. They have always supported us.

Joanie Townsend

Stand up for hometown police department

Dear Editor:

One of the reasons I think we are lucky to have a "hometown newspaper" appeared the other day with the reporting of what could have been an unremarkable city council meeting except for the "not-too-well-publicized" idea that funding some "not-too-well-defined public improvements would cost us our police department.

Given the level of protection and community connectivity that we currently receive from our own police department I feel that this is a pretty big ask.

Are we so bereft of creativity that the only way our administration sees to accomplish this is by such a draconian measure? No bond issues? No getting rid of the city manager?

Of course this blew up on social media as well it should have but it is from the objective reporting of Gari Voss for the Allegan County News that we get the bare bones facts unadorned by Facebook flash and bang. That's what the "Letters to the Editor" are for.

And for that, I say: Now Is The Time! Now is the time to stand up!

When everything we hold dear in America is being torn down, shredded and eliminated, here in our town, we should stand up.

Stand up for our Allegan Police Department! Don't let this be one more thing that's taken away from us. Ask yourselves: "What good is a new sidewalk or a street if it's not safe?"

David Ohmart

Replacing city police not an option

Dear Editor:

In response to the article of April 17, 2025 proposing to eliminate the City Police Department, I am concerned for our community and the priority selected by those making the decisions. In response to the City Manager by the Budget Subcommittee, the idea that this was considered is surprising to me that the very Department whose responsibility has always been to "protect and serve" our citizens would no longer be necessary. I thought this would be a protected item in the budget. It would seem that the fact that we can't afford to support our City Police would be a definite detriment to any new needed businesses looking for a good place to thrive. Our County Officers do a great job but have such a large area of responsibility and the relationship that our City Police have with our Community cannot be replaced. I pray that this idea would not be considered.

Thank you.

OBITUARIES

Sharon Dawn Fales, 78

Sharon Dawn Fales, 78, of Allegan, MI passed away Monday, April 14, 2025 at Resthaven Care Center in Holland, one day prior to her 79th birthday. Born April 15, 1946, in Allegan, she was the daughter of the late Larry Arthur and Wanita (Grauman) Waigand. She grew up on a farm, cultivating her love of gardening at an early age, and graduated from Allegan High School in 1964.

At Hardings Market one day, Sharon made her mom go through a specific checkout lane because she thought the carry-out guy was cute with his big smile and dimples. He joined the Army and it wasn't until years later, after she had graduated and gotten her own apartment, that she ran into him again at Hardings while trying to find a basket for her poodle, Romeo. Two weeks later, that young man, Lawrence Russell Fales, called and asked her out on a date, and their love story began. Sharon and Larry married at the Congregational Church in 1967.

A few years later, Sharon gave birth to their son, Tony, in 1968 and then their daughter, Jenny, in 1974. Their family was perfect, and Sharon and Larry spent their time supporting their children's endeavors. As their kids went through elementary school, Sharon happily offered her time as a room mother and the president of the PTO. She also helped at North Ward Elementary in the office, library, and lunchroom. She was happiest when helping others and giving to her family and friends.

Sharon worked as a secretary for Allegan Public Schools for over forty years, spending time at the middle school before taking her organizational talents and love of typing to the high school. She fondly regarded the high school staff and teachers at the high school as her own children, and they loved her in return. Sharon had a knack for knowing which interviewees would fit best with the staff and could always be counted on to do her work well and thoroughly. She left big shoes to fill when she retired in 2021. Students also recognized how kind and helpful Mrs. Fales was, awarding her the honor of Grand Marshal of the Homecoming Parade twice during her tenure at the high school.

As part of her calling to help others, Sharon loved to bake and give food to others. She combined her skills as a wonderful cook and a talented gardener to make jellies and canned items for events at the school and church. She enjoyed sending cards to friends and family to encourage them and let them know she was thinking of them. Sharon was devoted to her faith and enjoyed serving in the church by teaching Sunday School and Vacation Bible School and filling the role of Youth Director at First Congregational Church for two years. She believed that God's Grace and prayers from people who cared about her were the best gifts she ever received.

Sharon believed family was the core and foundation of life. She loved watching her four grandchildren grow up and could quite often be found sitting in the bleachers at one of their sporting events. She was an extremely proud mother and grandma, and her family filled her heart with joy beyond words. She always put the needs of those she loved above her own, right up until the end.

In addition to Larry, her devoted husband of fifty-seven years, Sharon is survived by her children, Tony (Kelly) Fales and Jenny (Troy) Aldrich; siblings, Dennis (Deb) Waigand, Diane (Roy) Ellis, Karen (Philo) Frost, Peggy (Larry) Radke, and Wyatt Waigand; grandchildren, Tyler Aldrich, Regan Fales, Aly Aldrich, and Addy Fales; and numerous nieces and nephews. She will be deeply missed by her family and friends.

The family will receive friends at First Baptist Church on Saturday April 19, 2025 from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM. A funeral service will begin at the church at noon and Sharon will be laid to rest in Oakwood Cemetery immediately following.

Memorial donations may be made to the Youth Program at the First Baptist Church of Allegan at 1290 32nd Street (M-40 South) Allegan, MI 49010.

Barbara Ann Miller

Barbara Ann Miller spent her final hours surrounded by her family knowing she was back home at Dumont Lake after a brief illness. She was born in Sparta, MI to William and Bertha (Monroe) Lautenschleger and was the 10th of eleven children. Barb always joked that she was always a "10". She graduated from Allegan High School with the Class of 1953 before marrying H. James Miller in 1955 and beginning an adventurous life out at Dumont Lake. She worked at the Allegan County Courthouse until she and Jim began their family and she chose to be a homemaker. Her years proudly supporting her children at various sporting events led to her love of watching sports. Barb was an enthusiastic Michigan Wolverines football fan both from the sidelines and in her living room. For a short time after the kids were in high school, she also enjoyed working as a short order cook in Hopkins.

Barb enjoyed the lake life of friends, golf cart parades, geese-chasing, and happy hour as well as camping with their camping group. She was also a fan of harness racing. While Jim and their son, Mike, did the dirty work with the horses, Barb was known to proudly state her only job was to make sure her hair was combed for the winner circle pictures. She would also volunteer as a timekeeper during the races at the fair.

Barb's dedication to her community extended to her many years as an election worker for Allegan Township where she championed inclusivity and fairness. Her deep sense of patriotism and commitment to her beliefs were cornerstones of her character.

Barb is survived by her partner in life and love of 26 years, Roy James, and his beloved family; her brother Dan (Judith) Lautenschleger; her children, Mike (Heather) Miller of Allegan, Melissa (Peter) Ginopolis; her cherished grandchildren, Nicholas, James, Alena, Hannah (Jacob), Jaclyn, and Laurel, along with her many friends in Michigan, Florida, and Camp Fukauwe.

There will be a Celebration of Life announced later when the weather is better at the lake. In lieu of flowers, she would have wanted support to be shown to Wings of Hope Hospice or Community Action of Allegan County.

Barb will be deeply missed but her love and kindness will live on in the hearts of all who were fortunate enough to know her.

Otsego boys finish close second at Allegan Invitational

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

Participating in the 16-team Allegan Invitational on Friday, April 18, the Otsego boys track team won five events and placed second in three others. That helped propel the Bulldogs to a second-place finish with 112 points, four points behind Whitehall. Hamilton was third with 98 points, while Plainwell was fourth (82.75) and Wayland was fifth (51). Saugatuck (11th with 19 points), Allegan (13th with seven points) and Fennville (15th with two points) also competed. Otsego trailed Whitehall by a single point—109-108—entering the meet’s final event. That meant the Bulldogs had to finish ahead of Whitehall in the 4x400 relay to win the meet. And while the team of Matt Long, Zeke Andrina, Dylan Towne and Jack Cook set a new season record of 3:34.78 to finish fourth, Whitehall placed second at 3:30.91. “I thought we had a great day and are starting to show what kind of team we can be,” Otsego coach Steve Long said. “These men have been working hard and their performances are reflecting that.” The running events started on a high note for Otsego, as the 4x800 team of Holten Mulherin, Trevor Meyer, Caleb Wesseldyk and Matt Long posted a winning time of 8:28.08. That included a team-best split of 1:59 from Wesseldyk in the third leg. Wesseldyk later won the 3,200 (9:56.65) and was runner-up in the 1,600 (4:36.06). “Caleb did what Caleb does, scoring over 20 points for us with a huge 1:59 split in the 3,200 relay,” Long said. Other running standouts for Otsego included Cook (second in the 200 at 22.67 and the 400 at 52.42), Kenny Sheffer in the 3,200 (third at 10:01.57), Michael Spitzner in the 300 hurdles (fourth at 43.47) and Matt Long in the 800 (2:04.7). “Jack Cook ran five fast races including the semis and PR’d in all of them, including a blistering fast 22.67 in the 200,” Steve Long said. “Kenny Sheffer had a nice PR in the 3200. Matt Long also had a really solid day with two season bests in the 4x8 and open 8.” “And Michael Spitzner might have been my athlete of the meet with two huge races in the hurdles including, placing his fourth in the 300H out of the slow heat.” In the field events, Alex Robbins and Carson Brooks starred for Otsego. Fresh off setting the school record in the discus three days earlier, Robbins one both the discus (145-4) and the shot put (50-4). Brooks, meanwhile, won pole vault at 12-6. “Alex Robbins did his thing, throwing things far winning both the shot and disc, while Carson Brooks had another great day in pole vault.” Michael Misner was third in shot put at 44-0. “I’m having fun coaching this great group of guys,” Steve Long said. “This is really a special team.” Hamilton dominated the relays, winning three of the four. That included the 4x100 team of AJ Friedrichsen, Jeren Bronkhorst, Cyrus Berens and Noel Vigil (44.07); the 4x200 team of Friedrichsen, Zach Stotel, Gabe Schrotenboer and Bronkhorst (1:31.08); the 4x400 team of Friedrichsen, Schrotenboer, Bronkhorst and Abatu Dykstra (3:30.53). Individually, Lincoln Phillips led the way for the Hawkeyes by winning the 300 hurdles (41.8) and taking second in the 110 hurdles (15.57). Logan Eding was runner-up in shot put (48-4) and third in discus (138-0). While Plainwell didn’t have any event wins, the Trojans had several top-3 showings. That included both the 4x800 relay team of Henry Cox, William Justice, Hiro Nguyen and Donovan Ryan (8:33.9) and the 4x200 relay team of Trent Hansen, Kegan Quarles, Ronald Nunez and Carter Monette (1:35.53). Other runner-up finishes for the Trojans were from Drew Nelson in long jump (19-7.75), Sawyer Lilly in discus (140-0) and Monette in the 100 (11.28). Nunez (11.31 in the 100), Nguyen (2:04.35 in the 800) and Ryan (4:39.62 in the 1,600)

Caleb Wesseldyk (left) ran a 1:59 split to help Otsego win the 4x800 relay at the Allegan Invite. (Photo by Jason Wesseldyk) all secured third-place finishes. Wayland, which was missing some athletes due to a conflict with the school’s prom, got its best showing from Brock Wheeler, who was third in the 400 at 52.6. Ezra Smith was fourth in pole vault for Allegan (10-6) and Cass Stanberry was fourth in long jump for Saugatuck (19-3.25).

Hoffman leads Bulldogs to runner-up finish

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

Track & field fans who braved the rain and lightning delay at the Allegan Invitational on Friday, April 18, were treated to a show by Otsego junior Emma Hoffman in the 3,200. With her winning time of 10:19.98 in the event, Hoffman not only posted the fastest time in Michigan so far this season, but also the 30th fastest time in the nation. Runner-up Georgia Babcock of Edwardsburg was more than a minute behind Hoffman, who helped carry the Bulldogs to a runner-up showing with 66.5 points. Middleville won the title with 135.5 points, while Plainwell was third with 59 points. Wayland (fifth at 47), Saugatuck (sixth at 45), Allegan (ninth at 33), Hamilton (10th at 30) and Fennville (15th at 12) also were part of the 16-team field. Hoffman also dominated in the 1,600, winning at 5:03.53, at was part of the winning 4x800 relay team (10:14.56) that also consisted of Sky Mejeur, Madeline Goodwin and Taylor Mitchell. “Emma Hoffman is a once-in-a-lifetime kind of athlete,” Otsego coach Justin Scott said. “Her 3,200 run was like nothing I have ever seen, and I think there is a lot more to come. There is both a natural skill set and an unbelievable work ethic and determination within her that has allowed her to run down her dreams. “In addition to her running talents, Emma is an exceptional human and a great teammate. It was a very proud moment for me as a coach to see an athlete who is such a fantastic kid having such an incredible level of success. She is a shining example of how to approach the things in life you want to achieve.” Olivia Klimp provided the other event victory for Otsego, taking the long jump title at 15-4.5. “Olivia is a very talented young lady and could probably be in our lineup in 10 different events,” Scott said. “Unfortunately, she can only have four on any given night. “She has wanted to long jump for a while, and this was finally the meet where it made sense with the other variables at play to give it a try. Her first-place finish provided a great boost for our team and I think she has a lot of room for growth as we continue the season.” Other top-5 efforts for Otsego came from Taylor Klimp in the 800 (fifth at 2:36.5), Mitchell in the 3,200 (fifth at 12:46.09) and the 4x400 relay team of Mejeur, Olivia Klimp, Taylor Klimp and Goodwin (fifth at 4:32.23). “The second-place finish here Friday is a great testament to how hard our team has worked this season, and it is one of the most enjoyable track meets I have been a part of,” Scott said. “All throughout the facility, our girls were putting in great performances and battling to earn as many points as possible. “This was a huge meet, with some really good programs in attendance. To walk out of there with a runner-up plaque is a huge accomplishment for our team. We are really starting to find our way and it’s super exciting. We had some individual first place finishes, but what made our team success possible is that everybody contributed to our success.” Allegan’s Jayden VandenAkker joined Hoffman with two individual-event wins, taking the 100 hurdles at 14.96 and the 300 hurdles at 46.37. Teammate Bailee Dilley was second in pole vault (9-0) and Maddie Antkowiak was fourth in shout put (33-2). Jadyn Erdody was one of the stars for Plainwell, taking second in both shot put (35-4) and discus (112-2). Alayna Ranney was third in the 200 (27.13) and was part of the second-place 4x200 relay team (1:52.47) along with Hailey Newcomb, Delainey Poel and Nyra Cross. Wayland’s Megan Brogger was second in the 400 (1:00.99) and third in the 100 (12.85), while Gwen Howard was second in high jump (4-10). Hamilton’s Izzy Friedrichsen won pole vault at 10-0; Saugatuck’s Alina Martinson won the 800 (2:28.21) and was third in the 400 (1:01.8), while teammate Mazie Robison was third in the 100 hurdles (15.37); and Fennville’s Isabelle Sliter was third in the 3,200 (11:53.51) and fourth in the 1,600 (5:27.82).

Hamilton takes first at home invitational

BY JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

HAMILTON—The situation appeared bleak for the Hamilton baseball team in the championship game of its home invitational on Saturday, April 19. The Hawkeyes trailed Schoolcraft—ranked 13th in Division 3—by a score of 7-3. But as is so often the case, appearances can be deceiving. Hamilton rallied to scored the game’s final eight runs to secure the 11-7 win in comeback fashion, securing the first-place trophy as a result. The game marked the second time this season that Hamilton has rallied from a big deficit to collect the victory against a state-ranked opponent. The first time was a 10-9 win against Spring Lake—No. 9 in Division 2—on March 28 after trailing 7-0 through two innings. “We were down, but our kids fought back,” Hamilton coach Brian Grabinski said. “This team has a bunch of fighters on it who refuse to give up. They’re a fun group to be around.” Marc Brower earned the win in the game, throwing six innings of two-hit relief. He didn’t allow an earned run. Offensively, James Hoffman was 3-for-4 with a run and an RBI to pace Hamilton. Brower was 2-for-4 with 2 RBI and one run, while Clay Blauwkamp had two runs and two RBI. The Hawkeyes advanced to the title game thanks to a 3-2 walk-off win against previously unbeaten South Haven in the first game. With the game tied at 2-2 in the bottom of the seventh inning, the Hawkeyes got a double from Brett VanderKooi, who was lifted for a pinch runner. That runner moved to third base on a “perfect” sacrifice bunt and eventually scored on a wild pitch to end the game. “We got good pitching and clutch hitting,” Grabinski said. “We’ve spent a lot of time working on bunting this spring, so it was especially fun to see Jakin Cozzello put down a perfect sacrifice bunt.” Caleb Oosterink pitched a complete game for Hamilton, allowing three hits and one earned run. He walked one and struck out six. Offensively Landon VanderZwaag led the offense, going 2-for-4 with an RBI and a run. “It was a good day of baseball for us,” Grabinski said. “South Haven came in undefeated and Schoolcraft is ranked in Division 3, so they were two quality wins. We had one rough inning in the schoolcraft game, but other than that we played very solid baseball.”

MARTIN—A strong pitching performance by Anderson Keeler helped propel the host Martin baseball team into the championship game of the Clipper Classic on Saturday, April 18.

Keeler limited Fennville to one run on three hits with three walks and 11 strikeouts in five innings as Martin won 4-1.

The Clippers took a 1-0 lead against Allegan in the title game, but the rest of the game belonged to the Tigers, who scored the final 16 runs to upend Martin 16-1.

Against Fennville, the Clippers got on the board first when Chase DeGlopper singled and later scored. The lead doubled to 2-0 in the

Otsego 8 Niles 0

Two goals each from Peyton Dennany and Lexi Gross highlighted Otsego's 8-0 win over Niles on Monday, April 21.

Gross also had an assist.

"This was a good opportunity for some of our role players to play a ton of minutes and for players to move around within our formation," Otsego coach Levi Butcher said. "It wasn't highly competitive from the opening whistle, but I was happy our girls showed patience and poise."

Constantine Taylor, Sydney Timmons, Reagan Engbers and Alivia Kuiper each scored one goal, while Haylee Dennany had two assists.

Zoe Alkire played the majority of the game in goal, with Maddie Ragan taking over for the final four minutes. Neither had to make a save in the shutout.

"Our back line has been playing outstanding soccer so far this year," Butcher said. "Through six matches, we've allowed only six shots on goal, two goals and we are currently on a streak of four clean sheets."

Plainwell 8 Sturgis 0

Plainwell improved to 2-0 in Wolverine Conference action (4-2 overall) with its 8-0 win over visiting Sturgis on Monday, April 21.

Alayna Eldred led the offensive charge for the Trojans, scoring three times.

Ava Meyers and Lucy Benson added two goals each. Meyers also had two assists.

Caitlyn Ridgeway scored one goal and assisted on two others.

Olivia Ranger and Harper Johnson shared the shutout in goal.

Plainwell 5 Kal. Central 2

The offensive prowess of Ava Meyers and Caitlyn Ridgeway helped lead Plainwell past Kalamazoo Central in a non-conference match on Friday, April 18.

Meyers and Ridgeway each scored twice as the Trojans secured the 5-2 victory.

Alayna Eldred accounted for the other Plainwell goal.

Fennville 3 Hartford 0

Fennville used a balanced scoring attack to prevail in its non-conference contest with Hartford on Thursday, April 17.

Christina Mendoza, Nadia Perez and Andy Balke each scored a goal as the Blackhawks claimed the 3-0 victory.

Fennville coach Mark Gray also praised the play of Mayling Mendoza, who chipped in with an assist.

Abby Gonzalez was in goal for Fennville and turned away all five shots she faced for the shutout.

Otsego 2 Vicksburg 0

The start of the Wolverine Conference portion of the schedule couldn't have gone much better for Otsego.

Facing Vicksburg, Otsego used goals from Alivia Kuiper and Olivia Witteveen to earn the 2-0 victory.

"Tonight was a big one for us in terms of getting the Wolverine Conference season going in the right direction," Otsego coach Levi Butcher said. "We'd stumbled out the gate the last few years against Vicksburg, and it set us up for a tough road toward potentially winning a conference championship."

with a second-inning single. Buell, DeGlopper and Caden Courtney each added one hit.

Watson started on the mound for the Clippers (3-4), striking out a pair in two innings.

On Thursday, April 17, Martin rebounded from an 8-3 loss to Delton in the first game of a twin bill to claim the second game 1-0 in walk-off fashion behind the dominant pitching of Haylen Buell.

In his five innings of work, Buell didn't allow a base runner to collect the perfect game in the darkness-shortened contest. He struck out 10 and needed just 50 pitches to get through the game.

"When Haylen is on the mound, we can compete with anyone," Martin coach Brad Blauvelt said. "He has shown great control early on in the season."

In 10 innings pitched this season, Buell now has walked just one batter with 24 strikeouts.

DeGlopper produced the game's lone run when he was hit by a pitch with bases loaded in the bottom of the fifth inning, bringing the game to an end.

Watson led the Clippers with two hits.

The first game saw Buell, Hopkins, Suk and Blake Sweeting each collect a hit. Kennedy started on the mound and allowed four earned runs with seven strikeouts.

"We made more mistakes than (Delton) did and that was the difference in the game," Blauvelt said.

JENISON—The Wayland softball team faced a formidable early season test on Thursday, April 16, when the Wildcats traveled to Jenison to face the fifth-ranked team in Division 1.

Wayland proved it was up to the challenge.

Behind the hitting and pitching of Madi Ludema, the Wildcats bested Jenison 8-6 in game one before dropping an 8-2 decision in the nightcap.

At the plate, Ludema went 4-for-4 in game one with two doubles. In the pitcher's circle, she scattered 12 hits and allowed six runs—only one earned—in seven innings with no walks and nine strikeouts.

Mackenzie Kositzky went 3-for-4 with three RBI in the win for Wayland, while Harmony Laker was 2-for-4.

In game two, Rae Stalard and Clara Dutkiewicz each went 2-for-3, including a double for Dutkiewicz.

Ludema also doubled, while Laker and Izzy Johnson each singled.

KALAMAZOO—The Otsego baseball team squared off with Kalamazoo Central in a non-conference twin bill on Monday, April 21, and came up short in both contests.

The Bulldogs dropped the opener 11-1 before suffering the 13-2 defeat in the nightcap.

In game one, Jaydon Watson had an RBI double to account for Otsego's lone run. Landon Wroblewski also doubled.

Watson also had an RBI in the second game, as did Kyle Holladay, who doubled.

The Bulldogs hosted Marshall for a non-league doubleheader on Thursday, April 17, and earned the split.

Otsego dropped the opener 13-3 before bouncing back to take the second game 6-5.

In the nightcap, the Bulldogs fell behind 5-0 in the top of the first inning. But Otsego plated two runs in the first inning on a double by Ryan Cockerel and added three runs in the second—including a two-run double by Scotty Durr—to knot the score at 5-5.

An RBI single by Matthew Jackson in the bottom of the fifth inning provided the winning run.

Cockerel was credited with the win thanks to two innings of scoreless relief work.

Durr had two singles in the opener, while Cockerel had a triple.

On Tuesday, April 15, Otsego traveled to Edwardsburg for a Wolverine Conference twin bill and came up one run short in each game, falling 4-3 in game one and 6-5 in game two.

Cockerel collected three hits in the second game and drove in three runs.

Otsego softball plays nine games in seven days

By Jason Wesseldyk

OTSEGO—It was a busy week for the Otsego softball team, with the Bulldogs playing nine games in a seven-day span beginning Tuesday, April 15.

Otsego went 3-6 during that span, including dropping both ends of a Wolverine Conference doubleheader with Vicksburg on Monday, April 21.

Otsego kept the first game against Vicksburg close, falling 5-2 after Vicksburg scored three runs in the top of the fifth inning to increase what had been a 2-1 lead.

Game two saw Otsego down 3-2 after one inning, but Vicksburg erupted for 11 runs in the second inning to pull away.

Alyvia Farrell had two hits in game one for Otsego, with Madi Dendel and Cassie Holland each collecting a hit in the second game.

In the Otsego Invitational on Saturday, April 19, Otsego beat Northview 6-3 but lost to Coopersville 4-2 and South Haven 12-8.

Two days earlier, Allegan hosted Jackson Lumen Christi and Hackett for the Allegan Tri and came away with a pair of wins.

grant funding used on previous projects has disappeared with federal cutbacks in funding and the closing of key offices.

A proposal made to the City Council related to closing the Allegan City Police Department and contracting with the Allegan County Sheriff Department. Dye felt that this would save about $500,000. But any such change must follow a process.

The pieces outlined by Sheriff Frank Baker and supported by County Administrator Sarro were broken down as follows:

“Typically, municipalities request a meeting to learn more about our operations and the services we provide. This helps them determine whether our offerings align with their needs. If a municipality decides to explore the concept further, the County Administration works with us to determine what financial impact this would have on our budget and to set the appropriate fee for services. This fee is based on County policy and the resources the municipality is requesting.

“Should a municipality wish to move forward with a contract for police services, it is processed under the following County policy:

4.16.7 Law Enforcement Contract (Fund 287) – The CAO is authorized to:

- ✓ 4.16.7.1 Execute Law Enforcement Services agreements (100% Local Unit for all personnel costs/100% County for all other costs) in conjunction with the Sheriff and local units of government within Allegan County.
- ✓ 4.16.7.2 Budget for and expend the necessary funds to meet the County’s obligations under the agreements, including but not limited to the creation of positions if deemed necessary (coterminous with the agreement), personnel costs, equipment, vehicle procurement or replacement and vehicle maintenance and operating costs.
- ✓ 4.16.7.3 Purchase existing vehicles and equipment owned by a participating local unit.
- ✓ 4.16.7.4 Sell vehicles and equipment, if necessary, in the event of a termination of agreement.
- ✓ 4.16.7.5 Update the County’s vehicle fleet list to reflect any vehicles purchased or sold in relation to the agreements.”

Those are the financial nuts and bolts of the contract. Commissioner and vice-chair Scott Beltman, who was at the City Council meeting, shared that the County Commissioners had not received any information about such a transition. He cautioned that such a change may not have the monetary savings of $500,000 that is originally expected. Plus, the quality or quantity of service given by the local police department may not be equaled by the county officers even though they are extremely professional in executing their jobs.

To this, Police Chief Jay Gibson posed, “How do you quantify the quality of service and relationships that the current Allegan Police Department gives? How will this affect the current officers, especially those who have retirement pensions tied to contracts with the City of Allegan?”

Where is the City of Allegan in the process of transitioning to the county? City Manager Dye met with county administration before the April 10th budget meeting. He shared information with the City Council during the meeting and did qualify it as a possibility.

During the April 14th Council meeting, information regarding projects and costs was again shared, but it was evident that Chief Gibson learned about the proposal from other sources. Neither the city manager nor the county administration had informed him before the April 14th meeting that the proposal to transition the law enforcement to the county was being considered.

City Manager Dye has now met with Chief Gibson. The council has been reviewing the information and will include the proposal on the agenda for their April 28th meeting.

Chief Gibson knows his officers and what they do each day on the streets of Allegan and in the Allegan schools. Reflecting on having a contract with the County, he realizes that according to contract, 25% of the time, there may be no coverage in the city, and he feels this is significant. In addition, the School Resource Officers (SROs) are not included in the contract. There are officers who have been with the force for 9 years, but according to their contract, if they do not complete 10 years, that retirement will be lost.

“I don’t enjoy the position my colleagues have been put in, in a rushed manner,” shared Gibson. “At the same time, I do not want people making negative comments. It only helps if they explain their feelings and positions in an appropriate manner.”

Reflecting on the basic Law Enforcement Contract, each municipality is different. There are cities and townships around the county that contract with the sheriff’s department. Each has very different situations from the City of Allegan and from each other.

As the process continues to unfold, Human Resources will need to consider the officers in the City of Allegan since some have been saving years for retirement. How will the city compensate officers for their years of service?

All but one of the officers is an Allegan High School graduate with strong ties to the community. Will the County officers have the same dedication to the city and its citizens? Will the county be able to utilize any of the current city officers? These are just a few questions that have been asked since the proposal was posed at the April 14, 2025, meeting.

The Allegan City Council will meet on Monday, April 28, 2025, at 6pm at City Hall, 231 Trowbridge St. Time for Public Comments, not to exceed 3 minutes each, are scheduled at the beginning and the end of the agenda.

How to establish a peaceful backyard retreat

Backyards have undergone quite a transformation over the last decade-plus. The days when patios and decks were all a backyard living space had to offer are largely a thing of the past, as homeowners have realized just how valuable it can be to commit to a stunning backyard.

The real estate experts at Zillow estimate that homes with backyard features such as outdoor televisions, outdoor showers and outdoor kitchens command 3.1 percent more than expected upon reaching the market. If 3.1 percent doesn't sound like a lot, it actually equates to nearly $11,000 on a typical home. But there's more to gain than money when converting a backyard space into a relaxing respite. Such spaces can provide a welcoming escape from the hustle and bustle of daily life, all the while giving homeowners and residents a comfortable space to soak in the great outdoors. With that in mind, homeowners can take the following steps to establish a peaceful backyard retreat.

- Refresh the landscape. Even if your vision is centered on outdoor furniture and a space that accommodates movie nights under the stars, it's still best to refresh the existing landscape if it needs a little upkeep. Overgrown trees, hedges and bushes can create the same cluttered vibe that dominates interior spaces overrun with items. If necessary, work with a local tree service or landscape architect to trim, or even remove, trees and hedges that are crowding the backyard and making it feel claustrophobic or giving it an unkempt look. Aim for a landscape that affords a balance of sun and shade so the space is as comfortable as possible throughout the day.

- Set up multiple gathering spaces, if possible. Once a backyard retreat is established, everyone who calls the property home might find the space hard to resist. Keep this in mind when planning the space and aim to set up multiple gathering spaces. An outdoor kitchen with a nearby dinner table can be a great space to enjoy al fresco dining, but a separate area to read a book or watch a movie or ballgame can make the space more versatile. Some may want to relax away from the noise of the grill area, and multiple gathering spaces ensures there's always a peaceful spot to unwind out back.

- Add a water feature. Running water has a way of calming the nerves, and that's good to keep in mind when planning a backyard retreat. Water features run the gamut from garden ponds to koi ponds to fountains to hot tubs. Homeowners can identify which feature best aligns with their idea of relaxation and then work with a landscape architect to ensure it's installed in their backyard oasis.

- Don't forget shade. Temperatures are rising in many areas of the globe, and that's worth noting when planning a backyard retreat. Even the most ardent sun worshippers likely won't want to be exposed to the sun at all times when relaxing in their backyards. Strategically chosen means of providing shade can make spaces enjoyable all day long. Consider umbrellas, gazebos, pergolas, and even retractable awnings to cover patios and decks when the sun is at its highest each afternoon. If you plan to spend ample time in the grass, make that more enjoyable by planting shade trees, which also can protect the grass from drought and make it more comfortable underfoot.

A relaxing backyard retreat can make for an ideal space to escape the hustle and bustle of daily life.

Common car noises and what they might be indicating

Although there are many drivers who understand what goes on under the hood of a vehicle and the inner workings of car mechanics, there are plenty of others who might not know a spark plug from a dipstick. For the latter group, random noises when driving can be a cause for immediate alarm.

Certain noises can be innocuous and easily fixed, while others may be indicative of something more complex. Pinpointing where a noise is coming from can help vehicle owners identify the problem. Here's a list of some common sounds and what the causes might be, courtesy of Firestone, Geico and Nationwide.

High-pitched squealing
Screaming or squealing coming from the tires when stepping on the brakes likely means that brake pads are wearing down and the indicator is rubbing against the rotor. Although this is not an emergency situation, it does mean that brakes will need to be replaced sooner than later.

Rattling in the wheel
If you hear rattling inside of a wheel at low speeds which stops as you drive faster, it could mean there is a loose lug nut inside of the hub cap. That wheel wasn't tightened properly the last time it was removed and replaced. Bring the car to a mechanic as soon as possible.

Clicking
If you try to start the car and only hear a clicking sound instead of the car turning over, a dead battery is likely the cause. Such a noise also may indicate corroded battery terminals that are preventing the current from flowing. Terminals need to be cleaned. The battery should be checked and jumped, if necessary. If a battery is not holding a charge, a new one is needed.

Squeaky or scraping windshield wipers
Squeaking and scraping means the windshield wipers are wearing down or the windshield is dirty. Clean the windshield and inspect the wiper blades to make sure they are in working order. A bad wiper and dirty windshield can reduce visibility and make driving dangerous.

Clunking sounds
Clunking sounds may indicate a few different issues. A clunking sound might indicate worn out shock absorbers, which absorb vibrations from the wheels. Damaged struts also can cause clunking. Worn out leaf spring shackles that help in off-road conditions also can cause clunking when they bend or break.

Humming, whining or whirring
These strange noises might have different origins. Check if the differential needs to be lubricated. A wheel bearing also could be worn out and produce a noise. In more severe cases, the transmission could be failing. The best course of action is to get a professional opinion from a mechanic.

Flapping noise
A broken belt typically is the culprit when a vehicle makes a flapping or slapping noise. Something also may be interfering with the fan. Driving with a broken belt may cause severe engine damage, so it's important to address the issue.

Squealing under the hood
Squealing can indicate worn or loose accessory belts. In newer cars it might be the serpentine belt. Belts are relatively inexpensive and easy fixes.

These are some of the sounds that vehicles can make when something is awry. Figuring out the issue can prevent further damage.

The benefits of lighting up your landscape

Homeowners know there’s no shortage of ways to tweak a property. Some homeowners may lament that the work associated with home ownership is never done, but owning a house also provide endless opportunities to upgrade the spaces people call home.

Landscape lighting has become increasingly popular in recent years. That popularity is undoubtedly due to a number of variables, and each highlights a benefit of installing landscape lighting around a property.

- Affordability: Some may think of big budget projects like kitchen remodels or room additions when pondering home renovations. Such projects can have a dramatic impact on the look and feel of a home, but landscape lighting can be equally transformative at a fraction of the cost of larger undertakings. The home renovation experts at Angi.com estimate the average landscape lighting project costs around $4,000, making affordability a notable benefit of the project.

- Appearance: There’s no denying the aesthetic appeal of a well-lit landscape at night. Landscape lighting can be utilized to draw attention to awe-inspiring components of a landscape, whether it’s natural features like gardens and foliage or man-made components like architectural features. Improved appearance can increase curb appeal, which is often associated with how a home looks during daylight hours. But photographs of a well-lit nighttime landscape can impress buyers as well.

- Cost savings: Landscape lighting might help homeowners reduce the cost of their homeowners insurance. Researchers at PolicyGenius.com found that insurance companies typically offer a discount of 2 to 5 percent to homeowners who install a home security system. Insurance providers may offer additional savings to homeowners who pair such systems with landscape lighting, which can be a deterrent to burglars who prefer to operate under a cloak of darkness.

- Safety: Insurance firms may discount premiums because of landscape lighting because they view it as a deterrent to potential criminals. But landscape lighting also makes moving around a property at night safer for residents and guests. Lighting can be used to illuminate walkways, outdoor living rooms, patios around pools, and other areas where residents and guests will be walking at night, which can reduce the risk of falls and injuries that may result from such spills.

- ROI: Savvy homeowners consider a renovation’s return on investment before deciding to go forward with a project. Studies vary, but the National Association of Realtors indicates landscape lighting can recoup as much as 70 percent of homeowners’ investment in the project at resale. When viewed through the lens of ROI, the cost of installing landscape lighting is even less.

Landscape lighting adds notable aesthetic appeal to a home at a fraction of the cost of other renovation projects. The benefits such lighting provides make the project one every homeowner can consider.

What to know about reseeding or replanting your lawn

Spring marks the return of flowering plants and warm weather. And homeowners know that spring also ushers in the return of home renovation season.

Homeowners undoubtedly have an extensive list of projects on their to-do list this spring, and that may include helping their lawns and gardens recover after a long winter. Unpredictable weather, which can include drought and excessive rainfall and everything in between, can take its toll on a lawn. In certain instances, the best solution may be planting new grass. But homeowners can consider these tips before they begin the process of reseeding or replanting their lawns.

- Scarify the lawn. Scarifying a lawn can help to create a clean slate, but the timing must be right. Various lawn and garden experts, including those at BBC Gardeners’ World Magazine, recommend scarifying in spring or early autumn. But don’t jump the gun when scarifying in spring by scarifying before the lawn has started to grow after a dormant winter. Scarify when the soil is a little wet and the grass is once again actively growing. Scarifying can remove any lingering weeds from last season and also pull up any moss that might have taken hold over the winter. Without weeds and moss to contend with, freshly planted seeds are in better position to thrive.

- Work with a landscaping professional. Homeowners with manageable lawns can likely scarify their own lawns with a relatively inexpensive plug-in scarifier. However, scarifying can be a strenuous physical activity, particularly for homeowners with large lawns. In such instances, homeowners can benefit from working with a qualified landscaping professional. Such a professional can scarify the lawn and subsequently reseed or replant new grass. The latter task is not so simple, as the lawn care experts at Scotts’ note that choosing the correct seed is a vital part of reseeding or replanting a lawn. Choosing seed may sound simple, but it’s a potentially complex decision that requires knowledge of the existing grass, including when to plant it. Certain grasses are best planted in spring or early fall, while others are best planted in summer. A qualified landscaping professional can identify the existing grass and plan the seeding or planting around this important detail.

- Prepare to water the lawn. Watering is vital to the long-term success and health of freshly planted grass seed. Scotts’ urges homeowners to keep the top inch of soil consistently moist, but not soggy. That requires a daily commitment, and setting a multi-function hose nozzle or sprinkler to the mist setting once per day or more if it’s hot outside can increase the chances grass will grow in thick and strong. Scotts’ recommends keeping the top two inches of the soil moist until the new grass reaches a mowing height of roughly three inches. Once that benchmark has been reached, watering frequency can be cut back to about twice per week, but now the soil should be deeply soaked instead of misted. The soaking will help roots grow deep into the soil.

Spring is a great time for homeowners in various regions to reseed or replant their lawns. With the right approach, homeowners can enjoy a full and lush lawn throughout summer.

Daily steps to make a vehicle last longer

Modern cars have longer life expectancies than their predecessors. Consumer Reports indicates it's not unheard of for modern vehicles to endure for 200,000 miles or more. For many, that equates to 12 to 15 years of usage.

Even though many vehicles are built to have increased longevity, it often is up to the driver to do his or her part to ensure cars and trucks can last for years and years. Here are some daily steps vehicle owners can take to achieve longer life spans for their cars or trucks.

- Take it slow and steady. Athletes do not hit the ground running at top speed, and neither should a vehicle. Let the car gradually acclimate to being on the move each day after sitting overnight. Gently accelerate and afford the engine time to warm up and all of the components to get the fluids they require before you jump on the highway or require the vehicle to go all out. Most automotive experts warn against idling a car in the driveway to warm it up, but starting out at a slow and steady pace is key.

- Don't be extreme. Jerky turns, gunning the gas and braking hard lead to unnecessary wear and tear on a vehicle. By smoothing out your driving, you'll put less stress on mechanical components and help prevent them from wearing out prematurely.
- Clean it out daily. Accumulated debris often builds up inside a vehicle that is used all of the time. Taking a few minutes to clear out trash or to wipe down the interior each day will prolong the interior components, not to mention make it easier to do a more thorough detailing when the time comes.

- Find a trusty fuel station. Bad gas can wreak havoc on a vehicle. Find a station that you trust, particularly one that takes care of their pumps and regularly changes their pump filters. It's worth it to spend a little more overall for good gas.
- Read your oil level. Oil is essential to maintain a properly operating engine and vehicle. AARP suggests routine reading of a car's oil level so that you can add lubricant as necessary. While this might not be a daily task, doing it regularly enough means you will keep on top of this important step.
- Park in the shade or a garage. The sun may feel good on a warm day, but the UV rays from the sun can take their toll on a vehicle's paint. Whenever possible, park out of direct sunlight so that the paint will not fade and the interior upholstery will not bleach. Those who need to park their vehicles for an extended period of time should choose a clean, dry, well-ventilated location, advises Wawanesa Insurance.

- Be attentive. Listen to the sounds your vehicle is making and give it a visual inspection each time you get in or out of the car. The sooner you catch something that is out of the ordinary, the easier it becomes to fix problems before they become costly and damaging.

Vehicle owners can take steps each day to improve the longevity of their cars and trucks.

Gardening safety for seniors

Longer hours of daylight and warming temperatures are hallmarks of spring and each of these variables do much to contribute to the reputation of a season that's become synonymous with rejuvenation. After months spent confronting cold temperatures and huddling up indoors, people might find the welcoming conditions of spring irresistible, which compels many to spend more time outdoors.

There's no shortage of things to do outside in spring, and the season marks a perfect time to reestablish one's green thumb and get down and dirty in the garden. Gardening is a rewarding and healthy activity, though some, particularly seniors, may need to approach springtime sessions in the garden with a heightened degree of caution. Seniors can keep these health and safety tips in mind as they celebrate the return of spring and what that means for their gardens.

- Recognize that gardening is exercise. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention identifies gardening as a good form of exercise, and evidence supports the notion that gardening is a particularly beneficial form of physical activity. A 2024 meta-analysis published in the Journal of Neurology, Neurosurgery & Psychiatry indicated that individuals who engaged in low levels of leisure time physical activities such as gardening are likely to have a lower risk of stroke than peers who are sedentary. It's important to keep these findings in mind when gardening, which is perhaps more physically demanding than some may recognize. Seniors can approach gardening just like they would other forms of exercise, taking the same precautions, such as stretching before and after each session and making a concerted effort to remain hydrated, while out in the garden.

- Incorporate rest into your garden routine. Rest is vital for anyone engaged in physical activity, including gardeners. Frequent breaks during gardening sessions can help avoid strains and sprains and provide opportunities to hydrate and get out of the sun. If possible, seniors can identify a shaded spot on their properties and place a bench there so they have somewhere to rest during gardening sessions.

- Utilize ergonomic gardening tools and other specialized products. The Center for Excellence in Disabilities at West Virginia University notes that ergonomics studies movements of a person's body during physical activities in an effort to produce tools that ensure a task has as little physical impact on the body as possible. Ergonomic tools are designed to lower injury risk, improve efficiency and increase satisfaction that stems from performing a particular activity. Before each gardening season, seniors can inspect their existing tools and replace them with ergonomic alternatives, if necessary. In addition, seniors can utilize specialized products, including long-handled gardening tools that reduce the need to bend over or kneel down, to further reduce their risk of injury while working in the garden. These simple strategies can ensure seniors' springtime gardening sessions are as safe as they are rewarding.

Seed of Resilience: Allegan Food Alliance expands community access

Seed of Resilience: Allegan Food Alliance Expands Community Access

As federal support for critical food programs like WIC, Head Start, Meals on Wheels, SNAP, and local farm purchasing is scaled back across the country, the Allegan Food Alliance is doubling down on a community-based solution: seeds, education, and connection.

Earlier this month, the Alliance hosted its second Annual Allegan Seed Fair, welcoming dozens of attendees to workshops, resource tables, and free seed distribution.

But this is just the beginning: the new AFA office, located at 221 Suite B, Trowbridge Street in Allegan, now serves as the hub of the Allegan Seed Library and Resource Center—with more than 2,100 packets of seeds still available, free to residents and to local seed libraries.

“Seeds grow more than food—they grow resilience,” said Mary Colborn, Executive Director of the Allegan Food Alliance. “When federal supports fall away, it’s up to communities like ours to grow stronger together. At Allegan Food Alliance, we’re building food security from the ground up—one seed packet at a time.”

The Alliance’s work goes beyond seed sharing. They are partnering with local health departments to launch a Community Garden Build Project this spring and have plans to stage a community production of Seedfolks—a play about how a shared garden transforms a neighborhood. Despite their growing impact, the Alliance faces a literal barrier: ongoing parking lot construction behind their building has made their office entrance difficult to access—especially for seniors and those with mobility issues.

“We recognize this is part of larger infrastructure improvements, but we can’t ignore the irony: the very work meant to make Allegan stronger is currently limiting access to education, seeds, and community connection,” said Colborn. “We’re actively looking for support—from accessibility consultants, contractors, and community members—to help us find solutions.”

How to Support:

- Pick up seeds at the AFA office (email or call ahead for hours)
- Donate or connect via <https://givebutter.com/SeedsofAccess>
- Reach out with ideas for accessible space, support, or partnership

The public is invited to support two important non-profits that serve the community of Fennville. For two consecutive weekends in May you can “shop til you drop” at 5849 W. M-89. The Fennville United Methodist Church, will be hosting both sales.

During weekend 1 the church will offer many used treasures May 8: 4pm-7pm; May 9: 8 am-4pm; May 10: 9am-Noon. 75 % of the proceeds collected will benefit the kitchen remodeling project scheduled to begin in June. Our doors are always open for weddings, funerals, family gatherings, community dinners, and Senior Citizen lunches.

Come back the following weekend and support Fennville’s food pantry, Ladders of Hope. Mike Wohlwend, executive director explained,

“Our pantry is a non-profit organization dedicated to fighting food insecurities in Allegan County. In 2024 we were able to assist 7,044 individuals in 2,249 households. This sale provides funds to help make this happen.”

You can support Ladders of Hope May 15:4pm-7 p.m.; May 16: 8am-4pm; May 17: 9am-Noon. In addition, shoppers at the Ladders of Hope sale can enjoy supper on Thursday or lunch on Friday as they shop.

One Act Festival, Youth Edition, raises the curtain

By Gari Voss

The Allegan Community Players will raise the curtain at the Griswold Auditorium, 401 Hubbard St., on the 11th Annual One-Act Festival, Youth Edition, Saturday, April 26, 2025. The Red Carpet Premiere will begin at 5pm, theater doors will open at 5:30pm, and the plays will begin at 6pm. Sunday, April 27th, the doors will open at 1:30pm, and plays will begin at 2pm. The 5 One Act Plays are written by area script writers, and most of the actors are youth under 18.

ACP President Don Grant reflected, “This year’s One-Act Festival has been an absolute blast! Putting our local youth in the spotlight was a brilliant change of pace. Seeing their growth, especially those who came through our summer youth camp, has been incredibly rewarding. For so many others, stepping onto that stage for the first time, delivering their first lines – those are the moments that make it all worthwhile. We intentionally designed this year’s one-acts to champion our youth, an opportunity we haven’t fully embraced in some time.

ACP is having a dynamic year, starting strong with our production of “The Bird Day Party,” and now celebrating the incredible potential of our young performers. Yes, working with kids can be challenging, but the joy of witnessing their growth is unparalleled. Sharing this passion alongside my daughter Celia, an added gift. I’m so proud of our community theater and feel incredibly fortunate to share its magic with others.”

The One Acts Youth Edition provides a fabulous opportunity to introduce young audiences to live theater. All ages are welcome. Tickets for general admission can be purchased in advance at allegancommunityplayers.org or at the door of the Griswold Auditorium on the day of the performance for $12 general admission. Use discount code FAIR until April 25th for $2.00 off each ticket.

The casts of The One-Act Festival - Youth Edition are ready to open on Saturday, April 26, 2024, at 6pm. Riders, hit the trails and win big

By Gari Voss

Friends of the Allegan County Equestrian Trail System (FACETS) invite all riders to Silver Creek County Park, 3900 134th Ave., Hamilton, MI, on Saturday, April 26, 2025, beginning at 8:30am to participate in the 2025 Poker Ride Fundraiser. This event not only raises funds that are used to maintain the riding trails through Allegan County but adds an element of friendly competition.

After winters and springs like the ones Allegan County just endured, the equestrian trails can fill with trees and branches which must be removed. That requires funds to run machines, even though the operators are often volunteers who clear the trails connecting the Silver Creek, Swan Creek Pond, Ely Lake, Pine Point Trails, and Littlejohn Lake.

When riders check in on Saturday, April 26th

Keeping the Allegan County equestrian trails barrier free after winter and spring storms takes a village of dedicated workers who have a passion for riding and for making sure all riders have safe trails to travel. The Poker Ride 2025 Fundraiser, sponsored by the Friends of the Allegan County Equestrian Trail System (FACETS), assists in providing the funds and fun to cover the costs of trail maintenance. April 26, 2025, beginning at 8:30am, riders will purchase their maps and set out to find poker chips that will provide a winning poker hand. The ride begins at the pavilion in Silver Creek Equestrian Park, 3900 134th Ave., Hamilton, MI. For more information, text (269) 568-6303 or (269) 506-3765.

beginning at 8:30am, they are given a map that will guide them to the location of containers holding poker chips. These have been hung in the trees along the trails within reach of the riders. Once a rider collects 5 chips, s/he returns to the registration table to draw a poker hand. The best hand wins the cash grand prize, and the second best wins the runner up prize.

If a rider does not like the cards drawn, three more cards can be purchased for $5. Those who do not hold winning hands, do not need to despair. Smaller prizes will be given away during the presentation at 2:30pm.

Late risers should not worry because registration goes until 10am, and participants can be on the trails until 2pm.

Early pre-registration has passed, but it is not too late to text (269) 568-6303 or (269) 506-3765 and make reservations or just arrive between 8:30 and 10am at Silver Creek. Those who donate $30 will receive a FACETS T-shirt while the supply lasts.

The Allegan County Equestrian Trail System (FACETS) began as a collaborative effort between the Allegan County Parks, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, and the volunteer group taking the name of Friends of the Allegan County Equestrian Trail System (FACETS). Not many of the original riders are still around, but a conversation with Chuck Pullen will provide an understanding of how passionate the riders were to create safe passage for horses and riders through Allegan County.

The 60 miles of designated riding trails through the Allegan State Game Area connect Allegan County parks. Thanks to FACETS, the trails and ecosystems have been maintained because of the dedication of the riders and friends who loved riding together then sitting around the campfire and sharing stories.

The Allegan County Parks and Recreation leadership acknowledges, “It is important to note that this ETS opportunity would not be possible without the active and dedicated volunteer group in FACETS (Friends of Allegan County Equestrian Trails).”

For those who would like to join the clean-up teams, text (269) 568-6303 or (269) 506-3765. For those unable to ride on April 26th but wish to assist can make checks payable to FACETS and mail them to Vicki Cassidy, 2554 38th St. Allegan, MI 49010.

Allegan farmers featured in docuseries

Allegan farmers, Jake and Ryan Drozd were recently featured in the award-winning Frontier Fields docuseries from Mosaic Biosciences.

Capturing the attention of farmers across the country with more than 1.7 million views and 5.9 million minutes watched, the Frontier Fields docuseries showcased the experiences and honest opinions of farmers like Jake and Ryan as they trialed biologicals on their farms. Last week, this docuseries received national recognition from the National Agri-Marketing Association (NAMA), winning first place in the Digital Content category at the Best of NAMA Awards.

“Frontier Fields would not have been possible without the farmers like Jake and Ryan Drozd who were willing to participate and go on camera to share their authentic experiences,” said Jenny Wang, Executive Vice President, Commercial, The Mosaic Company. “Much of our success with the docuseries can be attributed to their honest feedback and real-world insights about how biologicals work.”

For The Record

PEEK AT THE PAST

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

April 24, 1950
Tiger Nine wins first game, 7-1: Allegan's Tigers successfully opened their season with a 7-1 victory over the Bulldogs Thursday at Otsego.

Miles Hadden limited the Bulldogs to four hits while Allegan was connecting for 3 hits off Jack Weber.

Otsego started out with a band in the first inning as they collected three of their hits to score their only run of the game. Wanfield, Taylor and Weber got the hits and then Hadden closed the door on the Otsego hitters and didn't allow another hit until the seventh inning when Henry hit a single.

Allegan came back in the second inning to tie up the game and scored without the aid of a hit. Fran Cook got on by an error, stole second, went to third on an infield out and later scored the tying run on a flyball to the outfield.

Allegan sewed up the game in the fourth inning by scoring five runs on one hit. Cook led off with a base on balls, Hadden then singled Cook to third. With Cook on third, Jimmy Meyers laid down a perfect bunt to squeeze Cook home with the second run for Allegan.

Julie Beckers reads for 'busiest week': Julie Beckers is getting ready for the busiest, most exciting week she has ever spent—the Miss Michigan pageant in Muskegon June 16 to 21.

Representing Allegan County, the pert Miss Beckers, who was named Harvest Queen last September at the County Fair, will compete for the state title along with a bevy of beauties who, besides being beautiful, must have poise, talent, intelligence, charm and dignity.

If past pageants serve as a barometer, Julie is extremely qualified in each category.

Though she says the weeklong competition is "scary when I think about it," Julie's performance in the Miss Allegan pageant last August and the county Harvest Queen contest in September were almost without flaw.

She will perform the same modern jazz dance, "Space Odyssey," in Muskegon that the judges of local pageants favored and she'll wear fashions from Paine Farms Apparel of Allegan that she models tonight (Thursday) in the "Ot-Well-Egan Swings Into Spring '75 Style Show."

April 27, 2000
Tennis streak ends at 84 conference victories: Gary Ellis came to Allegan in 1974 as a new teacher and tennis coach, and a legacy began.

"The Streak," a fad in '74, became a reality for the Tiger tennis team starting April 13, 1988, and ended April 18, 2000.

The ending was reminiscent of its beginning. The last time an Allegan tennis team lost a Wolverine Conference dual match was in '88 to Gull Lake. The team to end The Streak in '00 was again Gull Lake.

The Streak stood at 84 straight Wolverine Conference dual matches won by the Tigers over a 13-year period.

The loss in '88 was a 4-3 nailbiter and the opening conference match for both teams. Gull Lake, as this year, was loaded with awesome singles and good doubles. The Tigers needed a win in singles from someone and then a sweep in doubles.

The singles win came unexpectedly from freshman Stew Collins, who upset Gull Lake's defending No. 4 singles state champion Bill Beardsley. Then, as now, the Tigers' doubles came up a little short and the match went to the Blue Devils.

Both teams went through the rest of the league undefeated and met each other in the finals of the conference tournament in all seven flights for the championship. This time things ended differently.

April 23, 2020
Teachers create masks for healthcare workers: As area teachers saw how local healthcare workers were in need of personal protective equipment, they put their own and the schools' 3D printers to work.

Julie Eckwielen teaches technology at Pine Trails and West Ward elementaries in Allegan and said she first heard of 3D printer enthusiasts mobilizing in a story about the Print Force Facebook group, which was gathering printers by the dozens in the Lansing area.

"After the schools closed, I was looking for a project and started hearing about the need for PPE," Eckwielen said, noting she was moved by how the community of 3D printer owners here and elsewhere had swiftly moved into action for their communities.

She joined the Lansing-based group at the end of March along with fellow Allegan technology teacher Harvest Queen Julie Beckers will represent Allegan County in the Miss Michigan pageant in Muskegon June 16-21.

Brian Price and West Ward second-grade teacher Geoff Nash. They eventually connected with Mattawan teacher Jarrod DeGroff, who formed a more local group April 4, the SWMI Print Force. The group has 35 members so far, including Nash's brother Joe.

"I immediately printed up a few things early on," Eckwielen said. "I think at first some places were hesitant to take them, but once we really started seeing the national shortages happen, we were happy to help."

She said Allegan Public Schools offered up the district's filament—the spools of plastic that 3D printers melt and sculpt into rigid objects—for us in the project.

Allegan superintendent James Antoine said, "I am beyond proud of our educators who have stepped up to assist our first responders during this crisis."

ENERGY STORAGE SYSTEM ORDINANCE

This Ordinance is to establish minimum requirements and regulations for the construction, erection, placement, location, maintenance, modification, operation, and decommissioning of Energy Storage Systems in the Township in a manner that promotes economic development and ensures the protection of health, safety, and welfare while also avoiding adverse impacts to important areas such as agricultural lands, residential areas, endangered species habitats, conservation lands, and other sensitive lands.

SECTION I
DEFINITIONS

The following definitions shall be added to Chapter III Section 3.01 Interpretation of Language of the Township Zoning Ordinance, and shall be inserted into said Zoning Ordinance so that all definitions are in alphabetical order:

Energy Storage System: One or more devices, assembled, capable of storing energy to supply electrical energy at a future time, not to include a stand-alone 12-volt car battery, an electric motor vehicle, or small store-bought batteries designed and used purely for household electronic items.

Energy Storage System, Small: An Energy Storage System that is a principal use (or co-located with a second principal use) and that is designed and built to connect into the distribution or transmission grid with a nameplate capacity less than 50 megawatts.

Energy Storage System, Large: An Energy Storage System (ESS) that is a principal use (or co-located with a second principal use) and that is designed and built to connect to the transmission grid with a nameplate capacity of 50 megawatts or more.

Non-Participating Property: Any property that is adjacent to a participating property, but is not part of the energy storage project.

Participating Property: An energy storage system host property or any real property that is the subject of an agreement that provides for the payment of monetary compensation to the landowner from the system owner (or affiliate) regardless of whether any part of a system is constructed on the property.

SECTION II
ENERGY STORAGE SYSTEM REGULATIONS

Section 1. Energy Storage Systems.

The following requirements shall apply to all energy storage systems:

- Site Selection. In the “AG” Agricultural District, this land use shall not unreasonably diminish farmland, including, but not limited to, prime farmland and, to the extent that evidence of such farmland is available in the evidentiary record, farmland dedicated to the cultivation of specialty crops.
- Energy Storage Systems, Small shall be allowed as a special land use in the following zoning districts:
 - AG Agricultural
 - I-1 Industrial
- Energy Storage Systems, Large shall be allowed as a special land use in the following zoning districts:
 - AG Agricultural
 - I-1 Industrial
- The following minimum setbacks shall be required. Setbacks are measured from the nearest facility structure to the nearest point on the associated item:
 - 100 feet from any property line of a non-participating property
 - 300 feet from the nearest point on the outer wall of a dwelling on non-participating property.
 - 50 feet measured from the nearest edge of a public road right-of-way.

- Fencing. The system shall be completely enclosed with fencing in compliance with the latest version of the National Electrical Safety Code or any applicable successor standard approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission.
- Sound. The system may not generate a maximum sound in excess of 55 average hourly decibels as measured at the property line of an adjacent non-participating property. Decibel modeling shall use the A- weighted scale designed by the American National Standards Institute. The Planning Commission shall require the applicant to provide a sounds study as part of the special land use review process.
- Lighting. The system must implement dark sky-friendly lighting solutions.
- Impacts of Battery Energy Storage System, Small and Large Energy Storage System.

- The following requirements shall apply to the entire system, or to designated components of the system, as indicated:

Additionally, signage shall be provided per NFPA 855 7.4.4, or any applicable successor code in place at the time of application for approval, including information on the system type and technology, special hazards, fire suppression system and 24-hour emergency contact information, including reach-back phone number. A clearly visible warning sign concerning voltage shall be placed at the base of all pad-mounted transformers and substations.
 - Other Signage: Additional signage may be permitted or required by the Planning Commission as is necessary to ensure the safe operation of the system.
 - The facility shall comply with NFPA 855 “Standard for the Installation of Stationary Energy Storage Systems” or any applicable successor standard adopted by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

- The Planning Commission shall require reasonable measures to minimize visual impacts by preserving existing natural vegetation, requiring new vegetative screening or other appropriate measures. The Planning Commission shall determine such visual screening measures as may be required on a site-specific basis pursuant to the standards for Special Land Use approval as specified in Section 17.36, the landscaping and screening standards of Chapter 21 Section 21.01-21.10, and/or the standards for site plan approval as specified in Chapter 20 Section 20.01-20.06 of the Zoning Ordinance of 2002 as Amended by Gun Plain Charter Township Board. In making this determination the Planning Commission is specifically authorized to consider whether additional visual screening measures are appropriate where a system is proposed to be located on property adjacent to a residential use and/or a residential district zoning classification. All screening/landscaping shall be properly maintained throughout the life of the project including replacement of any dead landscaping within six months.

- If the system includes an access drive(s) for maintenance purposes, the surface of the access drive(s) shall be permeable (unless on brownfield land or on an already paved surface at the time of application for approval, such as a parking lot or former building foundation.)
 - Subject to approval of the Planning Commission, the area within which the system is located shall not be paved with asphalt/concrete or any other surface material that is impermeable to water other than for slab foundations for structures and equipment. This shall not apply to a system located on brownfield land or on an existing paved area such as a former building slab or in an unused parking area when adequate parking remains for all other uses on the site.
 - All surface water runoff created by construction and operation of the project shall be effectively managed on-site.
8. Installation and Operational Safety. The system shall comply with all of the following requirements:

Faces in the Crowd

By G C Stoppel

The big topic on everyone’s mind this week was the natural gas outage. Tell us your adventures or tale of woe. And since the City of Allegan didn’t experience it, most of the conversations took place in Fennville.

-Woman at a market stand on M-89: “I’m cold. I’m still cold, and I’m waiting for the gas to come back on.”

-Woman, same location: “Yeah, well, it could have been a lot worse, like the folks down south who had tornados and flooding or the earthquakes in California, or that big volcano up in Alaska. And for another thing, it happened now, rather than in the winter when it was really cold. I didn’t like it, but it’s okay.”

-Man near the Fennville hardware store: “The only thing that bothered me is that my favorite eating joints were closed on account of it. I feel sorry them losing all my business.”

Laughs, and adds, “I’ll be back.”

-Couple near the same location. Woman, “Well, it gives us something to talk about besides politics and Trump. That’s a good thing.” Man with her: “She always looks on the bright side. That’s what I like about her.”

-Man, same location, “I guess we’re saving on the gas bill, and maybe they’ll kick in a little something to make it up to us.”

-Woman near the grocery store: “Didn’t really bother us. We heat with wood. The only thing was that we had cold water. Our boys didn’t want to take a cold shower so I let them have a couple of days off. They thought it was a real treat. Besides, I didn’t have water to do the laundry.”

-Man, same area: “Sort of reminds me of when I was growing up. We didn’t have much heat in the house. So, it’s nothing bad. Too bad kids today don’t know what hard times can be like.”

Woman near the Fennville drug store: “Well, the thing I didn’t like is that the gas people and everyone else just kept repeating the same message over and over and repeating themselves. They didn’t keep us up to date for a few days. I don’t think that is right, do you?”

-Young man near the Blue Goose: “My girlfriend, she lives down by Otsego and I stayed there.”

-Man near the Fennville Post Office: “Well, thank God it wasn’t the electricity. That would have been brutal. We had space heaters, you know, the electric ones, so we were all right, but without electricity, it would have been miserable. I think we came out on top on this one.”

Martin Twp approves new street light poles

By Piper Raab

As snow was pouring down on the evening of Wednesday April 9th, the Martin Township Board lead by Supervisor, Glenn Leep, conducted business in an organized, tight-ship meeting.

The motion to carry the approval of 5 new street light poles was successfully voted on. The installation cost by Consumer’s Energy is quoted at $100 per pole. The 5 street light poles will be located at (in Martin Township):

116th Ave. and 5th Street
116th Ave. and 8th Street
112th Ave. and

10th Street
120th Ave. and 10th Street
122nd Ave. and 10th Street

Two cemeteries near 8th Street, just north of 116th Avenue had damage from early April thunderstorms. A fallen tree knocked over a large tombstone. The tree was cut and taken care of. Lightning struck a large cedar tree and split it in half at the cemetery across the street. The tree had to be “cable-braced” together until it can be taken down professionally. Bids for tree service and tombstone repair will be taken care of by Memorial Day.

A Martin Township committee was formed in the fall of 2024; to spearhead a community improvement project for a new park. The Michigan DNR and the Allegan County Parks and Recreation Department has helped with a critique and an approval of a 9 question survey for a “community input” postcard mailer (with a QR code) to residents. Grant writing for public fundraising and the budget amount, for the park is to begin in April of 2026. In a telephone interview, Township

Supervisor, Glenn Leep stated, “The Park Committee is presently looking for land to best fit the park plan.”

At the end portion of the meeting, it was reported that the Martin Township Library and the Martin Township Fired Department are both short of funds for payroll for the months of: April, May and June, during the second quarter of 2025. Action to take place regarding this information was not discussed and the meeting was adjourned shortly afterward.

RELIGION SECTION

A year after he was ordained, Bishop Lee told us, “The one thing I learned is I no longer seem to have a first name. No one outside of my wife uses it, and everyone else seems to call me ‘Bishop.’” We all laughed because it is true for most of us.

We have a first name, maybe a middle name, on our birth certificate, but family members might not always use it. Instead, they call us by a nickname, or another name that denotes our relationship to them. In other situations, they go ‘bland’. When I went to university, I quickly discovered that none of us had first names - we called each other by our last name. Now, our name often varies depending on our work, professional titles and other labels that we use.

All of those names also explain some of our relationships with other people. There is nothing new about this, of course. We see it in the Gospels where Jesus was accorded a variety of names and titles such as Jesus son of Joseph, Jesus the carpenter’s son, Son of David, Son of Man, rabbi, and so on.

In the 8th chapter of St Mark’s Gospel, Jesus takes his disciples and asks them, “Who do people say I am?” They trot out all of the conventional and accepted answers, and Jesus does not debate or disagree with them. Instead, he changes the direction of the question, and asked the truly important one, “Who do you say I am?”

That is the really important question that each of us must answer in our own way. We answer it based on our experiences with him, but also partially filtered through our own experiences elsewhere. For example, if we had an absent or violent father, one who was irresponsible or emotionally detached, that may impact how we describe God the Father. Conversely, if our human father was warm, personable, kind, and patient, it will probably influence the words we use to describe God.

Our experiences are not all alike, and that can be chaotic and confusing. We don’t like chaos as much as clarity and even uniformity. Too often that leads to an attempt to enforce conformity among believers, often laden with many “you must...” statements.

I believe a far better opportunity for spiritual growth comes when we understand we will have different descriptions of the nature and attributes of the Holy Trinity, and that we are often blessed when we listen to each other. By hearing others and learning of their experiences, and then reflecting over them, there are always new opportunities for a more deepening relationship with our Lord.
